Our Nation has a New Enemy Within Army of Disciples in Philosophy (Infidel Philosophy)

Our nation has a new enemy within, not a particular sect of formally known religion, but an army of millions of disciples in philosophy (infidel Philosophy), psychology, psychiatry and sociology taking the place of religion, government school unelected bureaucrats, teachers and administration. With immense powers to persuade a large number of the future electorate. These teachers and administration were forced in so called training in philosophy (Infidel Philosophy), psychology, psychiatry and sociology in the upper adjutants of the government so called education system. Have been manipulated, so called trained, redirected into being a referral and dispersal agency for psychologies dogmas and psychiatry's drugs to it's students. Refer their students to the so called experts, psychologist, and disperse drugs, namely retalian to millions of young men and woman in the schools, each day. Teaching and promulgating the belief rooted in philosophy, the dogma of just "teen age sex", separating many of these youthful marriages. In so doing, consequently cause many of them to premeditated murder their babies in their finale solution, abortion. There are now psychologist placed as priest in high schools across America. The so called government educational system has systematically destroyed the social fabric, contentment, tranquil coexistence, through its beginnings in youthful marriages, permanence of marriages and the multiple generational observations in the bible supporting and protecting youthful marriages, even when unknown to others. Jesus said

"the root of all evil is money."

It been through using something that seems innocent, men have found ways to take advantage, to hide their real motives. For job security, for pensions and for more teachers, for more tax funding, for an even larger, vast government left wing education system. To proclaim and demand ever higher so called education, for especially woman, to forsake marriage, forsake family and children. To put marriage off by years. The first hundred years education in our country ended at 15 to 16 years old, when many would marry, have children, a family, being content, be fulfilled, manifesting peace and tranquility in themselves and their children. They saw youthful marriage struggles, as a challenged, with Christian character, and family support, they overcame. Many young men fulfilled sexually in marriages, keeping them from becoming womanizers. When the natural time young woman and men would seek each other out and want to get married, is shunned by the vast so called government educational system. Now the last hundred years the age limit of education has went to 18 years old, and many more years afterward, been shoved down the ears of young men and woman, by the vast government university system empowerment, influence. Where young men and woman are very divided, to be married, have children, a family, be content, is no longer valued at a young age. A stumbling block has been place in front of them with extending so called education, form 16 to 18 years of age. Where to be upright citizens to marry, at 16 or 17, means instead of settling down, as a young woman having children and young man working, they are held back by a piece of paper called a diploma, they aren't given. They are berated by the media, by government, by so called experts in human behavior, by so called religious people, to doom. The vast government school system relabeling youth marriages when unknown to others as just teen age sex, has destroyed many of young people lives. Made them live in denial of a marriage had occurred with their true love, that they had become one flesh, unknown to others. They murder their babies in abortion. Then they find themselves sexually unfulfilled, having multiple partners, then marring another, forsaking their true marriage unknown to others for a lifetime. Where the vast government school system egged them on, to believe in just teen age sex, to continue their so called education, to keep suppling jobs for bureaucrats. To murder the children of the marriages unknown to others, 50,000,000 million slaughter babies, on the high alter of so called education. Government mind control, with so called experts, in human behavior, called physiologist at the top of the pyramid, hierarchy in unconstitutional power. Where even those who don't go onto higher education, are seduced to follow in the footsteps of the so called educated, forsaking their marriages, when unknown to others. Where you see the manifestation of this in society, in the media, in the young people, crimes, jails full to the brim in of America.

This is particularly why the government schools, lock, trust, monopoly on education, absolutely, must be broken up. Through vouchers (100 percentage amount of government school pays for per pupil), where the money follows to the child. I suggest 100 percent, I have no sympathy or see justification in calls for a so called public school system to exist, if not needed. A democracy is based upon 100 percent, full equal treatment of all human behavior groups, with exception to our nation's founding Christianity and Judea heritage, respect, given at our nation's birth, constitution, and founding fathers words. I have very little sympathy for the vast government school system what they have done to our children and our nation. Parents will have their constitutional empowerment restored to it's full measure, and not one percentage measure less. Parents to choose the particular institutions of government or a private institution that has a particular human behavioral persuasion of the parents choosing. Not of the government's choosing or teacher's union, looking after their self interest, for lime light, employment, costly tax payer entitlements, two and half months off of work, even now cosmetic surgery. Private schools will receive government funds per student, parents choosing. They must meet standards of safety, be law abiding and minim hours per subject. As to religious instructions, being they are a private institutions of the people, are exempt from restrictions from teaching tenets of their human behavior group, be it consisting of a God or not. Example such as any human behavior group, Christianity, Muslim, philosophy, psychology, atheism, etc. They must be law abiding, violations of laws, will loose their prevision to student's funds from government. With the principle of equality to all human behavior groups, allows then public funds be used strictly according to the parent's sole choice of school. I purpose all public school, will hand out diplomas at 10 grade, 16 years of age. Where some young men and woman will move on to marriage, not being hampered by not receiving a diploma, young woman will begin families, instead of murdering their babies in abortion. Young men will work to support their family. Their will be optional two grades for occupational studies, especially for them who do not marry. School with grades 9 to 12, will become open to other human behavior groups to use as facilities, consequently will then minus the among of pupil percentage government funds that follows the student, equal to upkeep of the facilities. To keep order and peace in the facilities, all apostatizing, converting, would be excluded from the halls, except for a standardized bill board beside each doorway, what is offered in the room. Their will be limits to volume of sound coming form the rooms. Facilities from 9 to 12 grades, will one hour after the regular classes, will be open to all human behavior groups of the local district, all ages, all citizens, for multiple use facilities, with a small fee required to rent rooms, hall, or gym for the expenses of the facilities to operate. All government facilities for 8 grade or lower, will be restricted from other groups use and after hours facility use, for safety concerns, unless voted individually in each local district, the amount of facility availability, as long as equal to all.

Government must also encourage home schooling, such as an amount of money would be giving to the mothers to home school. I suggest half the money that would be normally used by government schools per pupil, as an incentive for homeschooling. 50 percent of the full amount, due to more expenses when having children leave home for a school, the added cost of buildings and so the mother aren't only interested in the money. This to encourage mothers and make it more easier for them to remain home. Where mothers and fathers training their own children is the idea setting over any other setting imagined by man or government bureaucracy. For mothers and fathers to care, nurture and teach their children in the ways of their choosing of a particular human behavior group, and in the ways of good citizenship. To safe guard from abuses, from age of 5 to 11, every six months monitoring through standardized test, and 12 years old to 15 years old, quarterly monitoring through government standardize test would be administered in the government school, for the basics reading, writing, math, history. Supervised by a government official. If not past, then the child has to to be either sent to public school, or a private school. Will there be some that fail poorly in educating their children, of course, but there will be many more parents that will excel more than any other means, especially by government. Home schooling, also as an additional benefit, will save tax payers money billions, ending costly tax payer entitlements, government school bureaucracy, lowering taxes, allowing many mothers to remain home with their children, to be nurtured up in good citizenship. Save trillions in added indirect effects, being with mothers watchful eyes, will train the young children of America in good citizenship, where there will be less crimes, less prisons. Where the origins of power in democracy, is in the people, in parents educating their children in home schooling, or their choosing of a human behavior group to teach their children. Without penalized losing their equal share of government financial support, their constitutional empowerment.

To protect home schooling from abuse and not to encourage an over abundance of having children, for financial gain only, each child addition, would receive one half of financial support, each child's before them. For example say the first child receive 7,000, second would receive 3500, third child would receive 1750, fourth child and beyond will receive a minimum of 1750. As to discourage adultery, for any children born out of the marriage with another woman, will not be eligible to receive financial support, for home schooling, will only be eligible for private schooling or public schooling. Any child born in the marriage, by another man, then her husband, will also not be eligible for financial support for home schooling for the particular child. Either parent convicted of felon, will be not eligible for seven years to receive financial support, for home schooling. Illegal immigrants and any child born from parents not citizens of the U.S.A., will not be eligible, to receive financial support for home schooling, private or public schooling.

It used to be young woman would be a teacher, until they married, and when married leave teaching to raise a family. The so called educational system has made this almost impossible, being to train a young woman to teach has been extended to many years and cost large sums of money and time, to the so called higher educational system. To recoup their large sums of money and time, teaching has to be extended, even made into a lifetime job. This must be ended, I propose to make becoming a teacher, six months of additional education, to teach, homeschooling mothers are exempt. It doesn't take a rocket scientist to teach Johnny and Mary, the basics of reading, writing and math. We need to encourage when a young woman teacher marries, to move on, leave and become a home maker, keeper at home, to allow other young woman to work, to sustain themselves until they get married.

We have reached a milestone of regret, there has become more woman working than men in the workforce. An endless cycle of woman complaining they must work to support their family with their husband. The so called educational system is at fault, in teaching woman to idolize work, money, they have increased the numbers in the workforce, to beyond its equilibrium, where woman now take away jobs from men who support whole families, and especially lowers the pay for men because of the excessively large workforce. Woman are in themselves been a large factor in causing lower wages for men, which additionally causes the endless cycle of woman to work outside their home, away from her children for extra money. Where if woman were thought not to idolize work by the so called government educational system, and began returning home, to be home makers, nurturing mentoring their children, live more within their means, would begin to increase wages for men. I would encourage young woman if not married to take a job, but when married to leave the job, and have a family and be a full time mother to them, in their lives, sharing, caring, nurturing, loving them to become law abiding citizens, married and enjoying the simple things of life. Another added benefit, if mothers returned home, to be full time mothers, will have a great environment effect, saving billions of barrels of unnecessary waste of oil, in the daily commute to work. Will open up the road ways, and lessen environmental urban sprawl, and lengthen the lifespan of the road infrastructures.

Since we have also entered an age, crossed the threshold of technological communication, government should offer some incentives for private enterprises only, to provide programs by the Internet and by TV, exclusively for educational basics, English, reading, writing, math, history. Taught to further more home schooling and even for citizens and new citizens to learn basics and history of our great nation. It seems a common objection of home schooling, is the statement, the children need to be with other children to learn and grow.

Homeschooling isn't a cage, where no social contact is available. The trust is in the parents to guide their children in the human behavior group of their choosing, not some vast government bureaucrat left wing deciding whats best. Home schooled children have friends in their neighbor hoods, relatives, and by by law have equal access to any after school activities of public schools.
