

Human Behavioral Groups The Beginning of the End of Our Constitution

12-7-91

Our Nation the United States of America was constituted on the principle that our government must not fund, give official recognition of expertise, power of enforcement to any human behavioral group. This separation allows a fair selection by the majority of people to elect a representative, to govern with his principles from his human behavioral group or groups for a term of years.

Religion must be officially recognized by the United States government as a human behavioral group and a belief in God. Psychology must be officially recognized by the United States government, as a human behavior group.

There was a man who threatened to kill his wife and did beat her up. The judge sent him to a mental institution to be treated. There he gained the trust of the psychologist and was released for a few hours a week. During a pass he went and killed his wife. There are men who sit at the controls of nuclear bombs. If he wanted to kill a million people would he tell a psychologist?

Where is the truth? Does it lie in psychology, in religion? I say the people of the United States must decide which principles are to use, to govern our nation by elections. Neither one of the behavioral groups should be funded, given official expertise, or have involuntary enforcement in our armed forces, courts, government agencies, or schools.

People are afraid to speak up because they think they will have to be forced to see a psychologist. Can you imagine being forced into a religion? Is it not difficult enough, having to be judge by a court established on principles from many human behavioral groups?

To those who trust and obey religion. To those who trust and obey psychology. To those who trust and obey both. To those who trust and obey neither please save our constitution of one nation under truth that sets man free.

Your concern citizen,
John J Nowak

Dear Mr. Nowak:

January 10, 1992

I very much appreciate you having taken the time to write me with your views. Letters from New Yorkers such as yourself alert me to current issues, and provide a range of opinions on how to deal with some of the problems affecting the citizens of our state. I will have your views much in mind should pertinent legislation come before the senate, thank you

Sincerely Daniel Patrick Moynihan

Dear Mr. Nowak

January 23, 1992

Thank you for your recent communication. As a United States Senator, I follow a variety of issues and appreciate knowing of your concerns and interests. Please be assured that I will keep your views in mind and during any future consideration of this matter.

Best regards Sincerely, John Glenn

Dear Mr. Nowak:

March 13, 1992

Thank you for your recent letter. I appreciate your willingness to share your views with me. Letters such as yours and others from concerned friends are a very valuable source of information and very helpful to me. I commend you for your interest and assure you that your views will be considered in my decisions.

Kindest regards, Sincerely Jesse Helms

Dear Mr. Nowak:

March 25, 1992

Thank you for sending me "Human Behavioral Groups: The beginning of the End of our Constitution." I read it with great interest, and I appreciate your thoughtfulness in bringing this to my attention.

Sincerely, Lloyd Bentsen